SIMON & SCHUSTER AND REGAN ARTS IN SALES AND DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

NEW YORK, July 23—Simon & Schuster, Inc. has entered into a sales and distribution agreement with Regan Arts, the new publishing imprint and multimedia venture founded by well-known publisher and media personality Judith Regan. Under the agreement, Simon & Schuster will handle world-wide sales and distribution for all of the new imprint's titles in print and electronic editions, which are expected to begin reaching the marketplace in Fall 2014.

"We are delighted to welcome Regan Arts and its authors to Simon & Schuster," said Steve Black, Vice President, Client Services for Simon & Schuster. "Our sales and distribution infrastructure are poised to provide them with the best possible service and help them to reach the widest possible audience. We look forward to a very productive partnership."

"Judith Regan has an undisputed and well-proven ability to acquire and publish, with audacity and flair, books that are cutting edge, that perfectly capture their moment in time, or are just plain fascinating reading" said Michael Selleck, Executive Vice President, Sales & Marketing for Simon & Schuster. "From acclaimed authors to notable and intriguing personalities, she has the finger on the pulse of what readers want, and we are eager to begin selling Regan Arts titles throughout the world."

"Having started my publishing career at Simon & Schuster, I have first-hand knowledge of their powerful and wide-ranging sales and distribution operation," said Regan. "They leave no stone unturned searching for every possible sale on behalf of their authors. And we are thrilled that our new partners share our endless passion for great stories, great authors, and great successes!"

During her time at Simon & Schuster, Regan published numerous bestsellers and notable authors, including works by Wally Lamb, Douglas Coupland, Howard Stern, Walter Kirn, Kathie Lee Gifford, Richard Marcinko, and Rush Limbaugh.
